Founded in 2007, The Samaritan Women (TSW) provides long-term residential services for young women seeking healing from the trauma of having been sold in the commercial sex industry. Our goal is to support survivors' self-discovery, spiritual growth, education pursuits and job skills training.

In 2017 The Samaritan Women expanded its vocational training program by establishing our biscotti business. Residents in our Restorative Program become certified in ServSafe, and learn the skills of food manufacturing, production, marketing, and retail. Our ladies are employed by the enterprise, earning a fair wage, and learn transferable workforce skills.

We deeply appreciate your support. For more information about our program or to order additional flavors of biscotti, please visit www.theinstituteofsheltercare.org.
